Shareholders who wish to personally attend the General Meeting should have the corresponding attendance and proxy card issued by the corresponding Iberclear participant (or, otherwise, the certificate issued by the Iberclear participant as corresponds in which case, or other document that accredits them as shareholders, in accordance with the law), and identify themselves to the staff in charge of shareholder registration. In order to accredit the identity of shareholders, or of the person validly representing them, at the entrance to the venue where the General Meeting is to be held attendees may be requested, along with submitting the attendance and proxy card, to accredit their identity by presentation of the National Identity Card or any other official document in force that the Company deems appropriate for this purpose. #### 5. Proxy

Shareholders with the right to attendance may be represented in the General Meeting by another person, even a non-shareholder, in compliance with legal requirements and formalities, the contents of these Articles of Association and in the General Meeting Regulation and those specified in this call.

The documents containing the proxies will include the identification of the person to attend in place of the shareholder. If this is not specified or if they are completed in favour of the Board of Directors, it will be understood that the proxy has been granted in favour of the Chairman of the Board of Directors, of the 1st Vice Chairman, the 2nd Vice Chairman or of the Secretary of the Board of Directors (if the Chairman of the Board of Directors, the 1st Vice Chairman or 2nd Vice Chairman are in a conflict of interest situation in relation to any point on the Agenda).

6. Proxy and voting by remote communication means

Shareholders not attending the General Meeting and that have attendance rights may delegate their proxy or issue their vote by remote communication means as set forth below.

The Board of Directors has resolved to authorise the exercise of proxy and voting rights by remote communication means providing that the guarantees of procedure and identification are fulfilled as established in article 6 herein, and the guarantees relative to the period for reception and the accreditation of shareholder status envisaged in article 7.1 below and any other requirements and formalities set forth in the Company Articles of Association, the General Meeting Regulation and the Capital Companies Act.

6.1. Exercise of the proxy right by postal correspondence:

To grant your proxy by delivery or postal correspondence, shareholders should complete and sign the card of attendance, proxy and remote voting issued in printed form by any of the Iberclear participants, or placed at the disposal of the shareholders on the Company website, in the section of such card for the signature of the represented party. The card, duly completed and containing a handwritten signature should be sent to the Company by post or equivalent messenger service. Any shareholder granting a proxy by delivery or postal correspondence undertakes to notify the agent of the proxy granted. When the proxy is granted to a Director and/or the Secretary of the Board of Directors, this notice will be deemed as made upon the reception by the Company of such card duly completed and signed. The individual to whom the vote is delegated may only exercise this by personal attendance to the General Meeting. On the date and venue of the General Meeting, any designated proxies should identify themselves by means of their National Identification Document, Foreigner Identification Document or Passport so that the Company may verify the proxy granted, attaching a copy of such proxy, as appropriate.

6.2. Exercise of the proxy right by electronic means:

Shareholders granting their proxies by electronic communication to the Company should do so via the Company website <http://www.oryzon.com>. Since the mechanism for granting the proxy by electronic means must have adequate guarantees of authenticity and identity of the delegating party, shareholders that wish to use this proxy mechanism should first have an advanced or recognised electronic signature, in the terms envisaged in the Electronic Signature Act 59/2003, 19 December, based on a recognised electronic certificate for which there is no revocation on record and that has been issued by the Spanish Certification Services Authority (CERES) of the National Coinage and Stamp Factory - Royal Mint (FNMT-RCM) or by means of the electronic National Identity Document. Once shareholders have their corresponding electronic signature they may, via the "General Meeting" space on the Company website (<http://www.oryzon.com>) and following the instructions set forth therein, grant their proxy to another person, even if not a shareholder, to represent them in the General Meeting. Any shareholder granting a proxy by electronic means undertakes to notify the agent of the proxy granted. When the proxy is granted to a Director and/or the Secretary of the Board of Directors, this notice will be deemed as made upon the reception by the Company of such card duly completed and signed. The individual to whom the vote is delegated may only exercise this by personal attendance to the General Meeting. On the date and venue of the General Meeting and within one hour immediately prior to the time announced for the meeting to commence, any designated proxies should identify themselves by means of their National Identification Document, Foreigner Identification Document or Passport so that the Company may verify the proxy granted, attaching a copy of such proxy, as appropriate.

6.3. Exercise of the voting right by postal correspondence:

To issue remote votes by delivery or postal correspondence, shareholders should complete and sign the "Remote Voting" section on the card of attendance, proxy and remote voting issued in printed form by any of the Iberclear participants, or placed at the disposal of the shareholders on the Company website. The card, duly completed and containing a handwritten signature should be sent to the Company by post or equivalent messenger service. If the card of attendance, proxy and remote voting issued by the entity participating on Iberclear does not contain a section devoted to "Remote Voting", the shareholder wishing to cast a remote vote by post should download and print the Remote Voting Card from the Company website, completing and signing it, or the card of attendance, proxy and remote voting issued by the Iberclear participant. Once either one has been completed and signed, the shareholder should send this to the Company by post or equivalent messenger service.

6.4. Exercise of the remote voting right by electronic means:

Shareholders issuing remote votes by electronic communication to the Company should do so via the Company website <http://www.oryzon.com>. Shareholders that wish to use this proxy mechanism should first have an advanced or recognised electronic signature, in the terms envisaged in the Electronic Signature Act 59/2003, 19 December, based on a recognised electronic certificate for which there is no revocation on record and that has been issued by the Spanish Certification Services Authority (CERES) of the National Coinage and Stamp Factory - Royal Mint (FNMT-RCM) or by means of the electronic National Identity Document. Once shareholders have their corresponding electronic signature they may, via the "General Meeting" space on the Company website (<http://www.oryzon.com>) and following the instructions set forth therein, issue their remote vote in relation to the items on the Agenda for the General Meeting.

7. Common rules for the exercise of proxy and voting rights by remote communication means

7.1 Deadline for reception by the Company and registration of shareholders / Shareholder Status.

For validity, proxies granted as well as votes issued prior to the General Meeting by remote communication means should be received by the Company at its registered office or via its website prior to 12 midnight on the day immediately prior to the one scheduled for the General Meeting to be held in its first call.

After the aforementioned deadline, only those proxies issued by card from the Iberclear participants submitted by the represented party to personnel in charge of shareholder registration within two hours prior to the time scheduled for the start of the General Meeting will be allowed for remote voting and proxy purposes.

The proxy, voting or attendance will only be deemed valid if shareholder status is confirmed, verifying that the ownership and number of shares furnished by each one of the individuals that attend, grant their proxy or vote by remote communication means (postal correspondence) coincide with the data furnished by Iberclear.

7.2 Rules of priority between the proxy and voting by remote communication means and personal attendance to the General Meeting.

7.2.1 The personal attendance to the General Meeting of any shareholder who has granted a proxy or previously voted by any remote communication, regardless of the type used, will render the proxy or vote null and void.

7.2.2 If one shareholder appoints several proxies or casts several votes, the action (proxy or vote) that was performed last will prevail, although the proxy or validly issued vote by means of the handwritten signature on the printed card will invalidate any votes cast by electronic means, either before or after. If any uncertainty exists about the moment at which the shareholder granted a proxy or cast a vote, the vote will take priority over the proxy, regardless of the means used to issue it. If the shareholder has cast different votes with different voting intentions, the last vote cast will prevail.

7.3 Other provisions. Technical incidents.

- If electronic means are used, only one electronic act, proxy or vote, and one revocation may be used. The revocation cancels the proxy or vote issued but does not allow a new proxy or a new vote by electronic means, since this possibility is depleted with the first vote or proxy.
- The transfer of shares with voting rights, providing it is known by the Company at least five days prior to the date of the General Meeting, will render any vote and proxy granted null and void.

- Shareholders are exclusively responsible for safekeeping the electronic signature for use of the electronic proxy and voting service.
- Shareholders with the right to attendance voting by remote means in accordance with the provisions of this article will be deemed as present for the purpose of the quorum of the General Shareholders' Meeting in question.
- For the purposes of article 126 of the Capital Companies Act, it is assumed that the joint holder undertaking an action at any time (proxy, voting or physical attendance) is appointed by the rest of the joint owners to exercise shareholder rights.
- If the shareholder is a legal person, a copy of the power of attorney of the signatory of the card of attendance, proxy and remote voting should be furnished, and any amendment or revocation of the powers held by its proxy should be notified, and the Company therefore declines any liability until such notice takes place, and always providing that this occurs prior to the start of the General Meeting.

Technical incidents:

- The Company reserves the right to amend, suspend, cancel or restrict any electronic voting and proxy mechanisms when technical or security reasons are required or imposed.
- The Company will not be liable for any damages that could be caused to the shareholder deriving from failures, overloads, fallen lines, connection failures, malfunction of the postal service or any other possibility of an equal or similar type, beyond the control of the Company, that prevents the use of the remote voting and proxy mechanisms. For more information on remote voting and proxy mechanisms, shareholders may refer to the Company website (<http://www.oryzon.com>), the email address accionistas@oryzon.com and the telephone number of the Shareholder Service Department (+34) 93 70 74 100.

8. Special information instruments

In accordance with the provisions set forth for this purpose in article 539.2 of the Capital Companies Act, the Company will enable an Electronic Shareholder Forum, in the "Electronic Shareholder Forum" section of the Company website (<http://www.oryzon.com>), that may be accessed with due guarantees by individual shareholders as well as any voluntary shareholder associations that, as appropriate, may be established in accordance with the provisions of article 539.4 of the Capital Companies Act.

Proposals for presentation as supplements to the Agenda announced in the call, requests for accession to such proposals, initiatives to attain the sufficient percentage to exercise a minority right envisaged by Law, as well as offers or requests for voluntary representation may be published in the Forum.

The Forum is not a mechanism for electronic communication among shareholders, or a place for virtual debate. Neither is the Forum a channel for communication between the Company and its shareholders. The Forum is enabled for the purpose of facilitating communication among Company shareholders on the occasion of the call, and until the General Meeting is held.

After accessing the Forum by means of the Company website, shareholders may identify themselves in it by the incorporation of their electronic signature based on an Electronic User Certificate issued by the National Coinage and Stamp Factory - Royal Mint or the electronic National Identification Number. Legal persons and non-residents in Spain should address any queries via the website accionistas@oryzon.com to adapt the mechanisms for participation in the Electronic Shareholder Forum with all due guarantees. As of the date of publication of the call announcement, they may consult on the Company website (<http://www.oryzon.com>) any information and requirements necessary for the aforementioned participation.

The use and access to the Electronic Shareholder Forum is restricted to given topics and regulated by the Electronic Forum Regulation, approved by the Board of Directors, placed at the disposal of the shareholders by the Company on its website.

9. Data protection

Any data of a personal nature that shareholders may send to the Company in the exercise of their rights of attendance, proxy and voting in the General Meeting, or that are furnished by bank institutions and Securities Companies and Agencies in which such shareholders deposit their shares, by means of the entity legally authorised to maintain the record of the book entries, Sociedad de Gestión de los Sistemas de Registro, Compensación y Liquidación de Valores, S.A. (Iberclear), will be processed to manage the development, compliance and control of existing shareholder relations as well as the call, holding and dissemination of the General Meeting and fulfilment of its legal obligations.

Shareholders will be responsible for obtaining the consent of any proxy they may designate, if this exists, to the processing of personal data by the Company for the aforementioned purpose.

Shareholders are furthermore informed that such data will be included in a digital file property of the Company, and the shareholders will have the possibility of exercising their right of access, rectification, cancellation and opposition, in accordance with the provisions of the Organic Act on Personal Data Protection 15/1999, by written notice addressed to Mr Carlos Manuel Buesa Arjol, in Cornellà de Llobregat (Barcelona), calle Sant Ferran, 74.

The data may be notified to the Notary who will attend the General Meeting, as well as to any third parties recognised with the right of information envisaged by Law, or accessible to the public insofar as they appear in documentation available on the Company website or are stated in the General Meeting, whose session may be recorded by audiovisual means and publicly broadcast on the website. By attending the General Meeting, shareholders provide their consent to this recording and broadcast.
